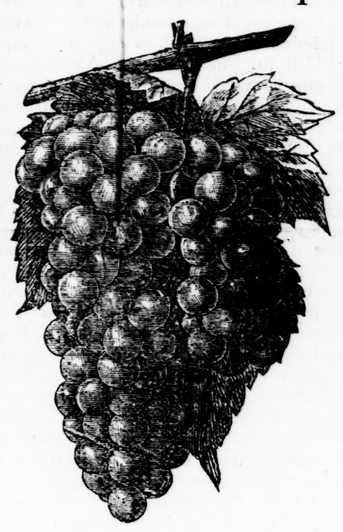
The "Walter" Grape.



DESCRIPTION.—The "Walter" is a cross between the Delaware and Diana, particularly combining the good qualities of both, and better than either.

The earliest good variety known; ripens with the Hartford Prolific.

A great grower and bearer; foliage and wood as hardy as the wild or native grape.

Its fruit never rots, but after a time uniformly raisins, in the house or on the vine.

This fact shows that it contains more sugar than any other variety, consequently will make better wine.

It has borne seven years, and never failed in producing its usual crop, while the wet seasons here have destroyed most of the other varieties.

The following are some of the Premiums which the "Walter" has received:

1862. American Institute—First notice and Premium as a new seedling.

1864. Newburgh Bay Horticultural Exhibition—First Premium.

1864. State Fair, Rochester—Noticed as a Seedling of promise, and likely to make a superior wine.

In 1865, at 5 years old, was removed from Modena, Ulster County, to Poughkeepsie, and bore 8 fine clusters fully ripe 20th August.

1866. American Institute—Highest Premium as a Seedling not yet disseminated.

1866. State Fair at Saratoga Springs—Noticed as a Seedling of high character and much promise.

1866. First Premium, quality ruling, at the great Exhibition of the Lake Shore Grape Grower's Association at Cleveland.

1868. Boston—Gratuity $5.60, and was thought the most promising grape on exhibition.

1868. New York State Grape Growers' Association, Canandaigua, N. Y.—First Premium of all the hybrids.

1868. Lake Shore Grape Growers' Association, Painesville, Ohio—First Premium of the new varieties. Also first Premium for the best 1 oaded branch.

SACCHARINE TESTS FOR WINE.—At the National Saccharine Test for wine, at Hammondsport, N. Y., Oct. 28th, 1868, the Catawba stood in saccharine matter 91—Walter 99—Iona 106—Delaware 103. This test was made with 17 ounces of the Walter, somewhat frozen, to 24 ounces of each of the other varieties.

Next morning the Superintendent, Clerk, and one of the Directors of the Pleasant Valley Wine Co. the parties who conducted the test the day before, to satisfy themselves of the merits of the "Walter" by an equal trial, tested 17 ounces of clusters of Iona from the same lot that were used the day before, and the saccharometer stood at 91—the "Walter" beating it 8.

Had 17 ounces of the Delaware and Catawba been pressed equally hard with the "Walter," their skins and centres being acid, the Delaware would have stood lower and the Catawba proportionately below the Delaware. All the other varieties ranged much lower than those enumerated above.

There had been constant rains and damp weather in the section where the "Walter" grew—its competitors growing at Hammondsport and along the lakes, where there had been but little rain during the season—dry soil and weather being necessary for the perfect sweetening of grapes.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—We offer our No. 3 Walter Vines for one dollar each, in quantities not less than 100. 430 will plant an acre if set 10 feet apart each way. These No. 3 plants are as large as many No. 1 vines that are offered to the public. A MERITED COMPLIMENT.—At the State Council Friends of Temperance, held at Goldsboro' last week, Rev. Jno. N. Andrews was elected President for the ensuing year. Mr. Andrews is a member of Mt. Olivet Council of this city, which is represented to be in a flourishing condition; and, as he has been a faithful laborer in the Temperance cause, we consider it a well deserved compliment.—Star.

"A COFFIN," said an Irishman, "is the house a man lives in when he is dead."

Fruit of all descriptions have yielded handsomely throughout the whole of the Northern States.

The wheat crops of Illinois, Michigan, Iowa, and California has decreased materially from the former averages.

Our Southern wheat surpasses any grown North this season, in appearance and good quality. So says the Agricultural Agent at Washington.

Beeves that are to be ripened off and marketed this Fall should be early in condition to sell, and held ready for shipment at the shortest notice.

A lawyer once came into court drunk; when the judge said to him, "Sir, I am sorry to see you in a situation which is a disgrace to yourself and family, the court, and the profession to which you belong." The reproof elicited the following colloquy: "Did your honor speak to me?" "I did, sir: I said, sir, in my opinion, you disgrace yourself and family, the court, and the profession by your course of conduct." "May I ask please your honor; I have been an attorney a-a-a-in this court for fifteen years; and permit me to say that this is the first correct opinion I ever knew you to give!"

A sick man was taken to a country hospital, but on looking round he insisted on being allowed to leave at once. "Why do you wish to leave?" asked one of the attendants. "Because," said he, "every man here has lost one leg, and some have lost both, and you ain't agoing to play that game on me—not if I know it."

"HALLO, stranger you appear to be travelling."

"Yes, I always travel when on a journey."

"I think I have seen you somewhere."

"Very likely, I have often been there."

"What might be your name?"

"It might be Sam Patch; but it isn't."

"Have you been long in these parts."

BUSINESS.

There is a good deal of talking here among brokers about a certain fast young youth whose father is overburdened with millions.

The young man would not work, and the old man could not bear an idler; and many were the quarrels between them.

At last the old man, quite out of patience said: "Now, Jack, I give you one week to make up your mind to what business you are to go in.—No son of mine shall be a lounger and go to work you shall? At the end of this week, if you have made no choice, I will stop your allowance altogether, and make you take a stool in my office, and work enough you'll have of it there.'

'Well, Jack, promised to look around and make up his mind.

At the end of the week, sharp and peremptory, as was his way, the old broker sung out:

"Well, Jack, time's up; have you made up your mind to make your own living?

'Well, father, I've been thinking of it, and have something in my mind, but it will require considerable capital.'

'Capital, Jack! capital, my boy!' said the delighted father. 'Only try to make your own living, and I'll buy you a national bank, or a line of steamers! What is it Jack? What is it?'

"Well, father, I was thinking that if you would only advance me three or four hundred thousand dollars, I could invest them in government bonds, and make my living by cutting off the coupons!'

The old man shied an inkstand at Jack's head, but never talks to him any more about 'business.'—City Item.

ASK ME NOT TO DRINK.

Fair lady ask me not to drink
A toast to thee to-night;
For broken vows and blasted hopes.
Expose the demon's blight.

Put back the wine, I dare not taste—
Put back the sparkling bowl;
For who hath quaffed a draught so deep,
And reached a blissful goal?

Oh! ask me not, there lies within
A poison deep and dire;
And every drop but serves the more
To fan the latest fire.

Each draught will quench my sense of guilt.
And blast youth's budding hope;
Each drop will sink me deeper still
In moral nights to grope.

Oh! press me not to touch the cup,
Within are glaring eyes,
And starving widows, hungry babes,
And freezing orphan's cries.

Whom the god's they first make drunk,
Then ask me not to drink;
Oh, tempt me not, but spare my soul,
From death's eternal brink.

EXAMINATION PAPERS.

An amusing periodical, got up by the boys at Uppington school, gives a capital skit on the usual style of "examination papers" frequently presented for the torture of pupils. We select one or two examples:—

Supposing the river Ganges to be three cubits in breadth (which it isn't, what is the average hight of the Alps, stock being 91½.

"If in autumn apples cost 4d. a pound in London, and potatoes a shilling a score in the spring, when will green gages be sold in Paris at 1½d. each, Spanish oranges being at a discount of five per cent?"

"If two men kill two brace of partridges in going up the right side of a rectangular turnip field, now many would be killed by five men and a terrier pup in going down the other side?"

"If a milkmaid, 4 feet 10 inches in hight, while sitting on a three-legged stool, took four pints of milk out of every fifteen cows; what was the size of the field in which the animals grazed, and what was the girl's age?"

"If 30,000,000,000 of human beings have lived since the beginning of the world, how many may we safely say will die before the end of it?" N. B. This example to be worked out by simple subtraction, algebra, and the rule of three. Compare results.

STUBBS said to one of his debtors: "Isn't it about time that you paid me that little bill?" "My dear sir," was the consoling reply, "it is not a question of time, it is a question of money."

WEDNESDAY OCT. 20, 1869

From the Standard.

The State University.

MR. EDITOR: I graduated at the University between the years 1850 and 1860, and was a student of tutor, now President, Pool. In the late political contests I have acted and worked with the Conservative party.—Upon the questions presented, my mind has undergone no change, and should the same issues be again presented I shall pursue a like course.—As an alumnus I have always felt attached to the University, and have silently but carefully noted the discussions in relation to its present organization. And now, as a friend to my State, to her people, to the cause of education, to truth and justice, I ask a hearing through the columns of every impartial and candid public journal in North Carolina.

A portion of the people of the State complain that the University is not what it should be, and refuse to patronize it. The leading public charges against it are, that it has been organized, and it is conducted in the interest of a faction or party, and that the Faculty are incompetent and distasteful. Let us look calmly at some of the leading facts. Upon the ratification of the new constitution the Board of Education, as required, met and elected a Board of Trustees.—There is to be one from each County of the State. This Board of Education were all of one particular party, and had been elected by the influence of the colored vote, and this in times of the most violent political fervor.—They assemble and elect a Board of Trustees. When the appointment of Directors to the Insane Asylum and that for the Deaf, Dumb and blind were to be made, out of a few there was at least one colored man on the Board. When this Board of Education are to elect, not five but eighty-nine Trustees, and from all parts of the State, whom do they choose?—Look at it! Not one colored man! Not men prominent alone in politics, nor all by any means of the party in power, but every Judge of the Supreme Court, every Judge of the Superior Court, both the United States Senators, the United States District Judge, the United States District Attorney for North Carolina, a considerable number of the Legislative Department, and a large proportion of the distinguished alumni of the University. How much better could have been done? It is not denied that the Board made some mistakes. It is not claimed that all the appointments were even proper. But what Board, under similar circumstances, would have given universal satisfaction? It is asserted however, without fear of successful contradiction, that no similar Board on the continent ever contained so many official dignitaries.

This body, in which the Executive and Judicial Department of the Government had the preponderence of influence, assemble. They find before them respectful resignations from every member of the Faculty except Professor Pool. These they accept and proceed to organize the University. Upon the day of election they discover that among various applicants for chairs in the University, there is but one who has acted with the Conservative party. He fails of an election for any other than reasons of a partizan political character.—Feeling the necessity of re-opening the Institution, they proceed to select from the names before them.

They find that Professor Pool had never resigned his place in the University, and his claims are considered. It is known that he entered the University at an early age, under embarrassing circumstances, deficient in scholarship and among the youngest member of his class. But although he came into competition with men much older than himself, and there were among his class mates more mature minds than in any class that was ever known in the Institution, he nevertheless gradually gained upon them until he received the first distinction in nearly all his studies.—Six months after his graduation he was recalled as tutor of mathematics. Before he had long held that position he was placed in charge of the junior class to give instruction in the highest branches of mathematics taught in the Institution. This duty was never imposed upon any tutor before, however long he had served. He had been at least three times invited to chairs in other prominent institutions of learning. These he declined at the earnest solicitation of President Swain and others of his friends. He had been raised to an Adjunct Professorship of Mathematics at a time when there were two full Professors in that department, and his promotion left no tutor therein, a thing unprecedented in the history of the University. This was done without application on the part of himself or his friends, at the instance of President Swain; as it was hardly to be supposed that the two eminent gentlemen who filled the Department of Mathematics at that time were incompetent, his promotion under the circumstances could only be regarded as a well deserved and acknowledged token of superior merit. He had given satisfaction as an educator, and on one occasion at Commencement, it is alleged that Hon. D. M. Barringer, a member of the Examining Committee attending Prof. Pool's examination of a class in Analytical Geometry and Calculus, publicly stated that it was the finest examination he had ever attended. With all these recommendations by the former authorities, with the fairest record as a student, as a gentleman and a christian minister, the eye of the Board were naturally turned to him. It is to be presumed that most, if not all of these facts were known to them, and perhaps others equally favorable, unknown to me. Especially is this likely, since one member of the Executive Committee was a college mate of his, and a member of the former Board of Trustees who had complimented him with a professorship; another was one of his old pupils, and the President of the Board had been for many years in a position to give him an acquaintance with such facts. At least one member of the Board was a class mate and several were his college mates and pupils.

In addition to all this it was known that not only had he been connected personally with the University from his boyhood, and had been the only member of the former Faculty who had never resigned, but his immediate family had been represented for a longer period as students and patrons of the University than, with possibly one exception, any family in the State. It was believed that he was the first man in North Carolina, who, in a published letter over his own name, had suggested the connection of the University with the public schools of the State, and which had been introduced into the new Constitution. It appears, then, that not only has President Pool been connected with the University from his boyhood, not only has he borne an eminent part as an educator in the training of thousands of young men of this and other States; not only was he the only one of the Former Faculty who never resigned his position, nor severed his connection with the University, but his immediate family have been among the most constant and faithful patrons of the Institution, while he for the last twenty years has filled as student, tutor, professor, trustee, president, more honorable positions under the former and present board of trustees than any man that ever lived. To whom in North Carolina, or elsewhere, could the board of trustees more properly have looked to take charge of the University in its extremity?

Was the election of President Pool, then, in the interest of a faction or party? Was it a reward for partizan services? He had not only repeatedly declined to allow his name to go before the people for the most flattering political offices, but was never known, though frequently solicited, to make a political speech, seldom to be present at a political gathering, and rarely to allow a discussion of political questions in his presence upon the public streets. When President Swain, in 1866 or 1867, published a series of letters of a political character, addressed to Hon. B. F. Perry, of South Carolina, it is known that Prof. Pool was unsparing in his disapprobation of the course pursued by the President of the University.—While assessor of internal revenue, his appointments showed no political bias, as the assistant assessors in Warren, Granville and Franklin counties, and other of his prominent officers, testify. Since his election as President of the University, this same unpartizan course has been displayed. Though bitterly assailed by the Conservative papers, he has treated all with the most marked courtesy, and the spirit of his late publications in the Sentinel over the signature of "North Carolinian" meets the approval of all. When distinguished gentlemen were to be invited to appear as lecturers or orators at the University, he has courteously and politely sought them from both political parties. Whatever may be said as to the appointment of his predecessor, Gov. Swain, it cannot be maintained that President Pool was elected as a politician, nor in the interest of any party, nor as a reward for partizan services. His predecessor spent but a short time in the University, and at the time of his election, had but little, if any, reputation as a scholar or educator; he became, however, a model, and President Pool follows one whose place is difficult to fill. It will require time for him to gain the experience that Gov. Swain had in the position. He may be expected to commit some errors.—Who would not? And where is the man that would give entire satisfaction, especially if elected by the present State authorities?

What has been said of President Pool, as to fitness, may be said of the other members of the Faculty. From the applicants before them the Trustees doubtless had reference in their selection to the best men. Prof. Melver had graduated with the first distinction in President Pool's class, and had attained a wide reputation as an educator and scholar. Prof. Patrick graduated at the University, and had experience as a teacher. If these gentlemen were incompetent and unscholarly, why were they graduated and sent forth as scholars by the former officers of the University? They were elected upon the recommendation they had thus received. Profs. Brewer and Martling were not so well known, but came with the highest testimonials. And who are they that essay to sit in judgement upon the competency of these Professors? Who should be the Judges in this matter? The distinguished and able Board of Trustees, or the anonymous scribblers who assail them? If Professors Brewer and Martling are incompetent, who knows it? One thing the public are beginning to see, that since the organization of the University, a more liberal system has been adopted, the advantages of an education are more freely offered at the University than heretofore, and a popular system of of lectures has been introduced by the Faculty that meets with favor from every friend of education. Reform in these and other respects have been inaugurated already in President Pool's administration, that promise to result in great good. Do the opponents of the University fear to give the present officers a trial? It seems so. If they really believe them incompetent, why this great effort, these misrepresentations and incessant struggles?

The Trustees have acted wisely and should be commended for having dedicated the University at Chapel Hill to whites alone. An opposite course would have been fatal to it. And yet the opponents of the Institution have falsely circulated the report that there are negro students, and even a negro Professor, there. The Trustees select a Faculty, a larger proportion of whom are native graduates than was ever before known to the University. Formerly our sons went to Northern schools-masters, and then to the University to receive a polish from Northern Professors. It was seldom the case that a North Carolinian could receive an appointment to a chair in the University. At present the President, and nearly every Professor at Davidson College are from other States; and yet the cry against the University is that it is under the control of Yankees. The University is at present understood to contain among its students the sons of members of both political parties and all the leading Christian sects.—But no word of complaint has been heard that the Faculty have made an effort to influence them in their opinions. I believe there is really as little political or sectional bias now in the University as at any former period of its history. The thinking people of the State are beginning to understand the true state of the case, and to believe that the outcry against the University arises from the fact that it has been converted from a political into a non political institution.

The University has not been organized, nor is it conducted in the interest of any party or faction. The Trustees are for the most part a body of men whose positions are supposed to lift them above partizan feeling.—They should be commended for having separated the races in the education to be given at the University.—They have acted wisely in electing a majority of native North Carolinians and alumni as Professors. There was no man whom they could naturally called to the head of the University as one who had been connected with it for twenty years, from his boyhood, who had received compliments from the former Board never given to any other man, who had been the only one of the former Faculty who refused to sever his connection with the institution in her time of trouble, whose family had been among the most constant patrons of the institution, who had been the first to urge in public a reform in the system of the University, who had borne part, as an Educator, in the training of thousands of the alumni, and who has filled more positions in connection with the University than any man that ever lived. And already, under his administration, more liberality is shown to the young men of the State who desire to obtain an education, than ever before; and such a course has been inaugurated at the institution as must meet the approval of the public. If he had no national reputation as an educator, his enemies have unwittingly heralded his name throughout the country, and he stands out as the bold champion of popular education in his State.

It is said the Faculty have been tried, and are so odious to the people that the University is not patronized. To this it may be replied that the Faculty were not elected and placed upon trial at all. Such an intimation would no doubt have been repelled by them and their friends as an indignity.—They have long ago proved themselves, or they would not have been chosen. But even had they been placed on trial, they have not been allowed a fair showing. They found the University closed. All know the difficulty of reviving such an institution when it has once gone down. It is also known that colleges are dependent for success upon popular favor.—They had no more than entered upon duty than the press began to forestall public opinion, by misrepresentations, abuse, and the most puerile and indecent personalities. Most of them were non-combatants, and these personalities were not resented. Their friends forbore, and the evil has grown. Under such circumstances they have had no proper trial. The lack of patronage was very natural, and they will be allowed a much longer time to build up the University, than if their enemies had waged no such unjust warfare. They are laboring faithfully to call students to the University, and are showing that it is worthy of patronage, while others, contrary to their own interest, are seeking to pull it down. If the patronage of the University should be inconsiderable under such circumstances, the blame cannot be attributed to the Faculty, but to those who misrepresent them.

And what does all this mean, but that the University shall not succeed, however deserving, under the present administration? That however important and useful to the State, whatever hallowed recollections cluster around it, they shall bow before the demon of party rancor? Will the good people of the State approve or allow such a course? Brother Alumni, awake! Our common mother is assailed, and with the exception of here and there a thoughtless or ungrateful son, they are stranger hands that strike her.

It is said that two prominent Trustees, Judge Pearson and Mr. Lassiter, refuse to patronize the University, the work of their own hands. What are the facts? Their sons at the time the University was re-opened, were connected with Northern Colleges, to which they had not only become attached, but where they were taking a high stand. They should not have been recalled. But why were they sent there? Not because of a want of confidence in the present Faculty, for they had not been selected when Judge Pearson and Mr. Lassiter sent their sons abroad. It would seem that it was a want of confidence in the University as it was then and not as it is now. So that the reflection is less upon the present than the former Faculty. They have sent no son abroad since the re-organization of the University. It was done before.

In this communication, I disclaim any leaning to the Radical Party or its principles. My political views have undergone no change. But the University of North Carolina, to which I owe a deep and lasting debt, must be sustained. Every impartial and candid conservative paper in North Carolina is requested to copy.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Let Us Protect Ourselves.

The physicial structure of the strongest human being is vulnerable everywhere. Our bodies are endowed by nature with a certain negative power, which protects them, to some extent, from unwholesome influences; but this protection is imperfect, and cannot be safely relied on in unhealthy regions or under circumstances of more than ordinary danger. Therefore, it is wisdom; it is prudence; it is common sense to provide against such contingencies, by taking an ANTIDOTE IN ADVANCE; in other words, by fortifying the system with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS—the most complete protective against all the epidemic and endemic maladies that has ever been administered in any country.—As a remedy for Dyspepsia, there is no medicine that will compare with it Whoever suffers the pangs of indigestion, anywhere on the face of the earth where HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS can be procured, does so voluntarily; for, as surely as truth exists, this invaluable TONIC and ALTERATIVE would restore his disordered stomach to a healthy condition. To the nervous it is also especially recommended, and in cases of confirmed constipation it also affords speedy and permanent.

In all cases of fever and ague the BITTERS is more potent than any amount of quinine, while the most dangerous cases of bilious fever yield to its wonderful properties. Those who have tried the medicine will never use another, for any of the ailments which the HOSTETTER BITTERS professes to subdue. To those who have not made the experiment we cordially recommend an early application to the BITTERS whenever they are stricken by disease of the digestive organs.

CHOLERA.

HOW TO CURE IT.

At the commencement of the diarrhœa, which always precedes an attack of the cholera, take a teaspoonful of the Pain Killer in sugar and water, (warm, if convenient,) and then bathe freely the stomach and bowels with the Pain Killer clear. Should the diarrhœa or cramps continue, repeat the dose every ten or fifteen minutes till the patient is relieved. In extreme cases, two or more teaspoonfuls may be given at a dose.

The Pain Killer, as an internal remedy, has no equal. In cases of Cholera, Summer Complaints Dyspepsia, Dysentery, Asthma, it cures in one night, by taking it internally, and bathing with it freely. Its action is like magic, when externally applied to bad Sores, Burns, Scalds, and Sprains. For Sick Headache and Toothache, don't fail to try it. In short, it is a Pain Killer.

The Pain Killer is sold by all dealers in Family Medicines.

These figures, representing the amount of claims audited by the Board of County Commissioners for the past year, have been paraded in certain quarters as a profligate expenditure of the peoples money, and the impression is endeavored to be made that that amount was consumed in administering the affairs of the County for the year. The persons making this charge, know better. Every item is put down, and the date of the debt, running back for years, stated. The following official report shows, that only $6,080.98 were expended in the year, a less sum than any other County in the State, of the same size, has expended:

EDUCATIONAL.—The Rev. S. S. Ashley, Superintendent of Public Instruction, and the Rev. J. W. Hood, will address the people of Wayne County, on the subject of Education, at 11 o'clock, on Friday, the 29th instant, at the Town Hall, in Goldsboro'.

PATENT LABOR SAVING SOAP.—We direct particular attention to the advertisement of Messrs. Chamberlain & Rawls, who have the General Agency for this invaluable Soap, for North Carolina. We have tried the "Virginia Soap" and find it to possess the efficacy it is represented by her to have. It is highly recommended by the Hon. Henry A. Wise, of Virginia, and by Judge David A. Barnes, Solicitor M. L. Eure, of the 1st District, and by the Mayor of Elizabeth City, of this State, and by scores of others who have used it. This Soap is for sale at the Store of Henry S. Hazell, in our town. Give it a trial, and you will use no other.

The Practical Farmer and Rural Advertiser, published monthly, in Philadelphia, by Paschall Morris, comes to us enlarged by eight quarto additional pages. It is now a 24 page paper, 4 columns wide, well printed and illustrated, and full of practical matter. Terms, $1,50 a year.

The Reconstructed Farmer increases in interest with every number. The low price at which it is published, only $2 a year, places it within the reach of every farmer, and should be found in every house.—Thigpen & Daney, two of the most successful planters in the State, are the editors. Address them at Tarboro'.

The Planter and Farmer, for October, has reached our table. We commend this progressive Magazine to the patronage of our agricultural friends. Its corps of contributors embraces practical farmers of large experience and intelligence, whose papers constitute a valuable fund of information and suggestion. Published at Richmond, Va., price $2 a year.

We have received the November numbers of "Arthur's Home Magazine," "Once A Month," and "The Children's Hour," published by T. S. Arthur & Sons, Philadelphia.—These Magazines which have become so popular with the people, are promised by the editors a higher standard of interest, excellence and artistic beauty, for 1870, than they have yet attained.

The attention of our readers is called to the communication upon the State University, in another column, signed "Justice." The Standard, from which paper we copy, says: "The author is a professional gentleman of the highest character, and well posted upon that as well as other subjects. He is a member of the Conservative party, but is thoroughly disgusted with the falsehood and injustice that have been used towards the University. Every candid and impartial Alumnus, who owes an equal debt of gratitude to his Alma Mata, will agree with "Justice." He asks the Conservative papers in the State to copy. Let us see if they will do it."

☞ The chap who wrote that charming old time song, "Would I were a boy again," must have had a good time of it in his youth and been well fed and clothed. There is nothing which children miss so much as warm, nice-fitting clothing; and, in truth, no child can enjoy life as all children ought to be allowed to enjoy it, unless good care is taken of them in this respect. In old times, when this work had to be done at home, there was some little excuse for parents and guardians for seeming to neglect the little folks in the way of nice clothing; but there is no excuse now, when they can purchase anything for under or outer wear at such first class clothing store as Weil & Bros., at Carrington's old stand.

☞ There have been indications during the week just passed that cold weather will come to us earlier this autumn than usual. This being the case, we should one and all put our wardrobes in order to meet the chilly blasts. One-half of the colds and sickness incident to our climate are caused by the failure of our people to meet the changes in time. We keep putting off and putting off, lured by the balmy weather, and, before we know, we are caught in a cold snap with lisle thread underwear and summer outer garments.

Therefore it is well to be provided in advance, and in this connection we would call attention to the fine assortment of novelties in the winter clothing line just opened by those popular dealers, Messrs. Einstein & Bro.—Their stock comprises every thing in the clothing and furnishing goods line.

STATE FAIR.—It may not be generally known that visitors to the ensuing State Fair, to be held on the 19th, 20th, 21st and 22d of October, will be passed on the railroads for one fare. Those buying tickets ought to mention the object of their visit to Raleigh to the railroad agents, who will arrange matters for them. Articles intended for exhibition will be carried both ways free.

DEXTER trotted one mile Saturday last in one minute and four seconds.

DEMOREST'S YOUNG AMERICA.—The November number of this popular Little publication has just reached us, and is decidedly the best number that has been issued. Opening the bright cover, out popped a beautiful bird, a supplement to the Magazine, worth its cost. The departments for the children, the "Little Housekeeper" and the "Young Farmer" are excellent. In fact, the entire contents are just such as are calculated to please and instruct the juveniles. It is the best investment for $1.50 that we know of. Published at 838 Broadway.

☞ The elections held last week in the States of Pennsylvania, Ohio and Iowa, were carried by the Republicans by decided majorities.

DANCE.—The Social Club, of this place, will give a dance at the Exchange Hotel, on Friday evening, the 29th instant. A good band will be secured for the occasion, and the members of the Club are determined that this dance shall be a success.

The New York Independent states that two-thirds of the students in the general Episcopal Theological Seminary in that city have just gone over to the Roman Catholics. The institution is said to be under decided High Church control.

☞ Tournament at Stantonsburg, on Thursday next.

DISCONTINUED.—The Norfolk Evening Herald, Col. Pool's paper, has been discontinued.

☞ See advertisement of "The Georgia Paper Mill," to be found in this morning's issue.

JOURNALISM.—Maj. W. A. Hearne will, we learn, resume the publication of the North Carolinian, at Tarboro', N. C., in a short time.

THE RAILROAD MEETING.—At a meeting of a number of the citizens of Goldsboro', held at the Court House, on Thursday evening last, for the purpose of taking into consideration the proposed Railroad connection to Snow Hill and Greenville, Mr. A. J. Finlayson was called to the chair, and J. A. Bonitz requested to act as Secretary.

On motion a committee of three was appointed to confer with the citizens of the place, with a view to ascertaining their feelings in regard to the movement.

ADVERTISING.—It is a little remarkable how much good an advertisement in a live paper does a man. We hear often of merchants who have received orders and found customers solely through the publicity they receive from their "cards" in the papers. A man who does not advertise is a comparative stranger to the business world.

If a man is going to buy goods, he consults the newspapers to find who keeps the best stock, and it is the true way to do. The very best merchants, those who keep the most complete stocks and sell at the lowest figures, advertise in the GOLDSBORO' NEWS. This is no imaginary idea, but a fact, a good business man always advertises.

OUR SCHOOLDAY VISITOR comes regularly, richly freighted with good things, to our table. This magazine gives more reading-matter, better illustrations, and more liberal premiums than any other periodical of its class published. It will soon commence its FOURTEENTH YEAR AND VOLUME, so that it is safe and solid. In short, we pronounce it to be the cheapest, best, and most worthy young people's magazine of all others. Terms, $1.25 a year. Great reduction and valuable premiums for clubs. The Publishers give to every subscriber, for 25 cents, a magnificent steel plate engraving, specially drawn and engraved at immense cost, and worth $2.50 per copy. Agents wanted at every post office in the United States. Sample numbers of the VISITOR, and full instructions to agents, sent, post-paid, for 10 cents. Address, DAUGHADAY & BECKER, Publishers, 424 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

A correspondent of the Wilmington Journal, says that there were shipped from Catawba Station, during the month of September, Dried Apples 109,965 pounds; Dried Blackberries, 30,000 pounds; Roots and Herbs, 30,000 pounds. These were in addition to large shipments of Honey, Butter, Beeswax, Eggs, Flax seed, Corn, Rye, Oats, Onions and various other articles.

A COMMITTEE in England has reported that "women are fast being drawn into the tide of demoralization and drunkenness; and that men go to public houses more to get away from their wives than from any other cause," that is, get drunk because their wives do. But isn't it much more probable that the women get drunk because their husbands do?

To ascertain the number of children in a street—beat a drum. To ascertain the number of loafers—start a dog fight.

THE following is a verbatim report of a conversation between two young ladies who have just finished their education at a classical school:—"Were you at the picnic?" "Yes, and we had a high old time of it."—"I wanted to go so bad, but mother was so hard pushed I couldn't get off." "I was rigged, but I could'nt corner you anywhere in the woods. We had a bully time, and you know I promised my gallant that he should have a sight a' you." "Well, I'm sorry, but you bet I'll put in my big licks at the fair."

Hon. John L. Pennington, formerly of the Raleigh Progress, but now a member of the Alabama Legislature, was in Goldsboro' on Monday last.

A SUPPOSED DUELING PARTY ARRESTED.—Two gentlemen, who, it is broadly hinted, were about leaving for the purpose of engaging in a duel, were arrested at the depot Monday morning and bound over to keep the peace.—Salisbury Examiner.

Lawrence, the celebrated Physician and Chemist, is a SAFE, PLEASANT, and RELIABLE remedy, for the PREVENTION and CURE of all diseases caused by a TORPID LIVER, IMPURE BLOOD, DISORDERS of the KIDNEYS, or DEBILITY of the NERVOUS SYSTEM.

READ THIS!

WE WOULD CALL THE ATTENTION of the public to an article which interests every house-keeper. The justly celebrated an article invented and patented by MRS. DR. HUNTER, of Virginia, and for sale by H. S. HAZELL, of Goldsboro', who is authorized to refund the money to all who are dissatisfied after testing it according to instructions. In the use of this Soap your linen clothes require no rubbing, either by hand or machine; your colored clothes, and all such as you do not boil, require a slight rubbing by hand.

LABOR-SAVING SOAP,

Directions for using it will be given to all who purchase. It saves about one-half the labor in washing, a very large percentage in wear and tear of your clothing; removes almost all kinds of stains, such as ink, paint or fruit stains. Warranted not to injure the finest texture, even a lace handkerchief. And last, but not least, it is more economical in expenditure. Try one bar, and if you do not like it buy no more.

DOTY'S WASHING MACHINE,

LATELY MUCH IMPROVED—AND THE NEW

Universal Clothes Wringer

Improved with ROWEL'S PATENT DOUBLE COG WHEELS, and the PATENT STOP, are now unquestionably far superior to any apparatus for washing clothes ever invented, and will save their cost twice a year, by saving labor and clothes.

Those who have used them give testimony as follows:

"We like our machine much; could not be persuaded to do without it, and with the aid of Doty, we feel that we are masters of the position."—Rev. L. Scott Bishop M. E. Church.

"It is worth one dollar a week in any family."—N. Y. Tribune

"In the laundry of my house there is a perpetual thanksgiving on Mondays for the invention."—Rev. Theodore L. Cuyler.

"Every week has given it a stronger hold upon the affections of the inmates of the laundry."—N. Y. Observer.

"I heartily commend it to economists of time, money, and contentment."—Rev Dr. Bellows.

"Friend Doty—Your last improvement of your Washing Machine is a complete success. I am sure you 'our Machine,' after a year's use, is thought more of to day than ever, and would not be parted with under any circumstances."—Solon Robinson.

"Your Washing Machine has been in daily use in our laundry, and the housekeeper expresses herself as highly pleased with it. It certainly accomplishes a greater amount of work, with less labor, and does not wear the clothes near so much as the old fashioned wash-board. By using it, one laundress is dispensed with"—Wm. M F. Round, Superintendent of Infant Department of St. Catharine's Nursery, N. Y. City.

PRICES.—A Fair Offer.

Send the retail price, Washer $14, Extra Wringer $9, and we will forward either or both machines, free of freight, to places where no one is selling; and so sure are we they will be liked, that we agree to refund the money if any one wishes to return the machines free of freight, after a month's trial, according to directions.

No husband, father or brother should permit the drudgery of washing with the hands, fifty-two days in the year, when it can be done better, more expeditiously, with less labor, and no injury to the garments, by a Doty Clothes Washer, and a Universal Wringer.

Canvassers with exclusive right of sale make money fast selling them.

Sold by dealers generally, to whom liberal discounts are made.

THE OLD BACHELOR.

BY JOSH BILLINGS.

A chronic old bachelor iz invariably of the neuter gender, I don't care how much he may offer tew bet it ain't so.

They are like dried apples on a string—want a good, soaking before they will do to use.

I suppose there iz some of them who have a good excuse for their neuterness; many of them are too stingy to marry. This iz one of the best excuses I kno ov, for a stingy ain't tew have a nice woman.

Some old bachelors git after a flirt, and can't travel as fast as she doz, and then concludes awl the female groupe: re hard to ketch, and food for nothing when they are ketched.

A flirt is a rough thing to overhaul until the right dog gets after her, and then they are the easiest of awl to ketch, and often make the very best ov wives.

When a flirt really falls in love she iz as powerless as a mown daizy.

Her impudence then changes into modesty, her cunning into fea, her spurs into a halter, her pruning hook into a cradle.

The best way to ketch a flirt is tew travel the other way from which they are going, or sit down on the ground and whistle a lively tune till the flirt comes around.

Old bachelors make the flirts, and then the flirts get more than even by making the old bachelors.

A majority of flirts git married finally, for they have a great quantity of the most dainty titbits of woman's natur, alwuz have shrewdness to back their sweetness.

Flirts don't deal in poetry and water gruel; they hev got tew hav brains, or else somebody would trade them out of their capital at the first sweap.

Disappointed luv must of course be all on one side, and this ain't any more excuse fur being an old bachelor than it iz fur a man to quit all kinds of munual labor, jist out of spite, and jine a poorhouse bekase he kan't lift a tun at a pop.

An old bachelor will brag about hiz freedom to you, hiz relief from anxiety, hiz independence. This iz a dead beat past resurrection, for every body knows there aint a more anxious dupe than he iz. All his dreams are charcoal sketches of boarding-school misses; he dresses, greases hiz hair, prints his grizzly mustache, cultivates bunyons and corns, tew please his captains, the wimmen, and only gets laffed at for his pains.

I tried being an old bachelor till I waz about twenty years old, and came very near dieing a dozen times. I had more sharp pain in one year than I have had since, put all in a heap. I was in a lively fever all the time.

There is only one person who has inhabited this world so far that I think could have been an old batchelor and done the subject justice, and he was Adam; but I hold it is every man's duty to select a partner and keep the dance hot.

"BIGOTED."

Old Job Dundee was at one time one of the most popular darkies in our city. He was a kind of a patriarch among the colored population, and universally liked by the white folks. About the time that he stood at the head of the New street church he was subpœnaed before Squire (now Judge) Wiseman, to testify to the character of a negro who was charged with petty larceny.

'Well, Job,' said the Squire, 'what do you know of the character of the defendant?'

'Well, I knows considerable 'bout de colored indiwidual and I neber fin's him guilty of only one 'fence,' replied Job with great reverence.

'Well, what is the nature of the offence you allude to?'

'Why, de nigger am bigoted.'

'He's what?'

'Bigoted, bigoted—doesn't you know what bigoted am?'

'Why, no,' replied the Squire, who is much of a wag. "Will you define the term, Job?'

'Sartainly, I does. To be bigoted, a colored pusson must know too much for one niggar, and not enough for two niggars.'

Dig potatoes as soon as ripe, provided there is not much rot among them, in which case we judgment.—If they can be dug and sold before they rot much, well; if they can be fed with profit, do so. Do not put them into the cellar to become a mass of corruption, and make it necessary to overhall and throw them away by and by.

Two young misses, discussing the qualities of some young gentlemen, were overheard thus: "Well, I like Charley, but he is a little girlish; he hasn't got the least bit of a beard."—"I say Charley has got a beard, but he shaves it off." "No, he hasn't either, any more than I have." "I say he has, too, and I know it, for it pricked my cheek." That's how she knew.

A servant, sweeping out a room, found a sixpence, which he carried to its owner. "You may keep it for your honesty," he said. Shortly after, he missed his gold pencil case, and inquired of the servant if he had seen it. "Yes, sir," was the reply. "And what did you do with it?"—"Kept it for my honesty sir!"

The young lady who took the eye of everybody. has been arrested for stealing.

Geographical.—"John, where is Africa?

"On the map, sir."

"I mean on what continent—the Eastern or the Western?"

"Well, the land of Africa is the Eastern Continent, but the people are all of 'em down South."

"How do the African people live?"

"By drawing."

"Drawing what—water?"

"No, sir, by drawing their breath."

"Sit down, John."

"Thomas, what is the equator?"

"Why, sir, it is a horizontal pole running perpendicularly through the imagination of astronomers and geographers."

"Go to your seat, Thomas."

"William Stiggs, what do you understand by an eclipse?"

"An old race horse, sir."

"Silence! Jack, you are a scholar; what is an eclipse?"

"An eclipse is a thing as appears when the moon gets on a bender and runs against the sun; consequently the sun blacks the moon's face."

Pedagogue looks amazed. Dismisses the class.

KOURTING IN THE SEASONS.

I love to kourt in winter,
The many gurls I no,
When awl outside is drery
And kivered up with sno;
I love to kourt in winter,
Bekawse the ole folks dred
The kold and stormy weather,
And hurri oph to bed.

I love to kourt in spring time,
When awl is bright and gay,
When natur s miles so sweetly,
To chase the cold away;
I love to kourt in spring time,
Bekawse the gurls, you no,
They look so orful pretty
In dresses kut so lo.

I love to kourt in summer,
When awl things are in blume,
And yet I think that kourting
Will ever be my dume;
For I have asked just twenty-one
Of awl the gurls I no,
To have me for their loving one,
And they have answered—No!

Buckwheat is greatly injured by even a light frost. Be prepared to cut and put in little cocks or gravels as soon as frost threatens. The tops should be gathered and bound at the top, more to prolong the drying and to prevent the wind scattering the grain than to make the little gravel shed rain. Many kernels, half formed when cut, will fill out at the expense of the juices of the kernel.

Grass may be sown alone at this session, or at any other.—Prepare the ground well, giving thorough harrowing and top dressing, picking off the stones; sow the seed, and roll. A bushel of oats harrowed in before the grass seed is sown, will afford the young plants the protection of a fine mulch during winter, and unless the season is very mild, will be thoroughly dead and out of the way when spring comes; making good manure.

A dairyman informs the Maine Farmer that having tried many things for sore teats on cows, he finds lard best, the most healing and softening.

The Scientific American recently published that a poultice of bread and vinegar, applied when going to bed, was a sure remedy for bunions and corns.

Sorghum is a crop of great importance, especially with present facilities for working it up. It should be topped, cut up, stripped and stacked before frost, to be hauled to the mill and worked up before hard freezing weather.

Beans should be pulled as soon as the pods seem well matured. They will cure in a loft better than in the field, and a few may be cured on a barn floor. In the field stack them between stakes to keep off the ground, and thrash when dry.

TESTIMONIALS;

WILLIAMSTON, MARTIN CO., February 22nd, 1869.

MR. JNO. R. CONGLETON, RALEIGH, N. C.

Dear Sir:—For the last eight or ten years I have been exceedingly troubled with a painful and distressing case of the Piles Hearing "Congleton's Vegetable Salve" spoken so highly of as the great cure for Piles, I purchased in March, 1868, while in Washington, N. C, one box, and was soon relieved, and by the time I had used the contents of the box I was perfectly well, and have never had any return since. I consider myself entirely and permanently cured. I give this for the benefit of those who may be troubled with these same disease, believing thereby that I will be benefiting them, and recommending to them a most valuable medicine and worthy of great praise.

I have also used the salve for Sore Throat and find it the best medicine ever has in my family for that complaint.

Respectfully yours
JAS H ELLISON.

WAKE COUNTY, N. C, Feb. 14, 1866

MR. CONGLETON—Dear Sir:—It is with pleasure that I heroin certify to the efficacy of your Vegetable Salve, in the cure of Piles. I have been afflicted with said disease some twenty five years, more or less I have tried various remedies, but found no cure until I was advised by a friend in Raleigh to try your Salve, which I have done, and am at present perfectly well I have used only one box, which I think, it judiciously used, will cure any case like mine.

I would advise all afflicted with said disease to go and do likewise

Yours respectfully.

TESTIMONIALS:

RALEIGH, N. C, Jan 16, 1869.

MR CONGLETON:—On the 14th inst., I came to town with considerable pain and swelling in my right knee I got a bottle of the "American Rheumatic Liniment" and applied it to my knee, which was greatly relieved and assuaged in ten hours. I then applied it again and by night was so far cured as to forget to apply the remedy; this pain had resisted the application of Liquid Opodeldoc for a week without any perceptible improvement, causing a limp in my walk at sometime and fears of inability to walk at all.

Respectfully,
THO BAILY,
Book Agent, Dayton N. C.

WAKES COUNTY, N. C., Feb. 24th, 1869.

MR. CONGLETON:—Dear Sir: My little son was for four months suffering with pain in his legs and weakness in his knees so he scarcely could get about and walked with great difficulty. I was fearful that he would lose the use of his legs entirely which gave me a great deal of trouble and anxiety, hearing of the American Rheumatic Liniment, I purchased one bottle and commenced using it, and by the time I had used half of the bottle, my son was greatly relieved and could walk very well, and after using the whole bottle, he is now perfectly well, with many thanks to you and praises for the "American Rheumatic Liniment" I am yours, &c.,

Scrofula, or King's Evil, is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only Scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as ERUPTIVE and SKIN DISEASES, ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, ROSE, or ERYSIPELAS, PIMPLES, PUSTULES, BLOTCHES, BLAINS and BOILS, TUMORS, TETTER and SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM, RHEUMATISM, SYPHILITIC and MERCURIAL DISEASES, DROPSY, DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, and, indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIATED OR IMPURE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

AYER'S

Ague Cure,

FOR THE SPEEDY CURE OF

Intermittent Fever, or Fever and Ague, Remittent Fever, Chill Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical Headache, or Bilious Headache, and Bilious Fevers, indeed for the whole class of diseases originating in biliary derangement, caused by the Malaria of Miasmatic Countries.

We are enabled here to offer the community a remedy which, while it cures the above complaints with certainty, is still perfectly harmless in any quantity. Such a remedy is invaluable in districts where those afflicting disorders prevail. This "CURE" expels the miasmatic poison of FEVER AND AGUE from the system, and prevents the development of the disease, if taken on the first approach of its premonitory symptoms. It is not only the best remedy ever yet discovered for this class of complaints, but also the cheapest. The large quantity we supply for a dollar brings it within the reach of every body; and in bilious districts, where FEVER AND AGUE prevails, every body should have it and use it freely both for cure and protection. A great superiority of this remedy over any other ever discovered for the speedy and certain cure of Intermittents is that it contains no Quinine or mineral, consequently it produces no quinism or other injurious effects whatever upon the constitution. Those cured by it are left as healthy as if they had never had the disease.

Fever and Ague is not alone the consequence of the miasmatic poison. A great variety of disorders arise from its irritation, among which are Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Headache, Blindness, Toothache, Earache, Catarrh, Asthma, Palpitation, Painful Affection of the Spleen, Hysterics, Pain in the Bowels, Colic, Paralysis and Derangement of the Stomach, all of which, when originating in this cause, put on the intermittent type, or become periodical. This "CURE" expels the poison from the blood, and consequently cures them all alike. It is an invaluable protection to immigrants and persons travelling or temporarily residing in the malarious districts. If taken occasionally or daily while exposed to the infection, that will be excreted from the system, and cannot accumulate in sufficient quantity to ripen into disease. Hence it is even more valuable for protection than cure, and few will ever suffer from Intermittents if they avail themselves of the protection this remedy affords.
